

Transitive and Intransitive

Lyrics by GrammarFlip

Transitive verbs take an object, you see;
It's where action flows, predominantly.
Intransitive verbs, they stand on their own;
No object needed—they're all alone!

"I baked a cake,"— "cake's" the word;
It's the object with a transitive verb.
"I walked in the park," just me on my feet;
Intransitive verbs don't need objects to meet!

Transitive verbs take an object, you see;
It's where action flows, predominantly.
Intransitive verbs, they stand on their own;
No object needed—they're all alone!

"I kicked the ball,"—the ball's in play;
Transitive verbs make the object stay.
But "I slept last night," no objects around;
Intransitive verbs – just action, no noun!

Transitive verbs take an object, you see;
It's where action flows, predominantly.
Intransitive verbs, they stand on their own;
No object needed—they're all alone!

"I sang a song,"—what did I sing?
Transitive verbs make the object ring.
But "I laughed out loud," no object in sight;
Intransitive verbs – they're doing it right!

Transitive verbs take an object, you see;
It's where action flows, predominantly.
Intransitive verbs, they stand on their own;
No object needed—they're all alone!
